Vermont's ongoing recovery, vitality, and strength for the future will depend on the commitment and collective action of local leaders working to advance their communities. As Vermonters have faced immense challenges over the last two years, local leaders have stepped up in unprecedented ways. Local leaders have been addressing the pressing needs that the pandemic highlighted including food access, childcare, broadband connection, financial needs, racial equity and more, while also steering critical projects and initiatives for the future of their towns and cities. This Summit is an opportunity to recognize these exceptional leaders, build on the important lessons and changes of the past two years, and create programming to support local leaders.

In 2018 and 2019, hundreds of Vermonters joined together at VCRD's Community Leadership Summits to explore ways to support local leadership and democracy. We have seen tremendous challenges and change since our 2019 Summit, and VCRD has heard from thousands of Vermonters the need to come back together to renew, connect, and continue to lead positive change as we transition into a post-pandemic world. VCRD has convened a diverse planning committee of experts from across the state to bring a broad and inclusive event to present Vermont leaders with the 2022 Vermont Community Leadership Summit.

Local leadership is key to building a thriving, vibrant, and welcoming State.
