VCRD's 2025 Leadership Summit will bring hundreds of community builders from across the state together with over 100 presenters and panelists to engage with each other, make new connections, celebrate community successes, build leadership skills, talk through challenges facing communities, and think proactively about the future.

In Vermont communities, nothing moves forward without the people who dedicate themselves to their town and the issues they care about. Thank you for your support in shaping the future of Vermont and our communities.
